PEACHTREE'S STYLISH NEW DECORATIVE GLASS OPTIONS DRESS UP FRONT ENTRANCES

MOSINEE, Wis., — Peachtree® Doors and Windows has introduced eight decorative glass designs to accompany its new entry door systems line. The distinctive patterns give homeowners options ranging from wrought-iron grille work to classic floral patterns and stained glass. The decorative glass is available on Peachtree's beautiful new Mahogany, Oak and Smooth, and Steel collections of entry door systems and complementary sidelites, transoms and direct set windows. The Symphony pattern is also available on the Craftsman Collection entry door systems.

"A home's curb appeal starts at the front entry," said Jeff Kibler, Peachtree brand manager, "and a new entry door with decorative glass is one of the best ways to increase curb appeal. Our new decorative glass patterns will appeal to nearly every homeowner's taste and home's architectural design. The designs are not only breathtaking but also provide greater privacy than clear glass."

The Symphony pattern features geometric shapes formed by patina coming to accentuate prairie or craftsman-style architecture. Squares of heavy seedy glass with gray obscure accents and a classic chevron center band provide the most privacy possible.

True wrought iron in a medieval pattern in the airspace creates the Ravenia pattern. Hammered obscure glass ensures the highest degree of privacy.

Formed by bands of wide black patina coming, the Oak Park design gets an added prairie-style touch with green and amber accents that have an iridescent granite border.

The Milano design delivers the look of wrought iron with the added beauty of true leaded glass. Heavy rounded black patina coming with elegant applied filigree combined with beveled cut glass and seedy obscure glass make this a truly stunning design.

Homeowners creating a new home with European-influenced design will appreciate the Riviera glass pattern. Black patina coming shapes a diamond pattern among textured art glass and multifaceted clear glass jewels.

The Newcastle pattern features a floral design of beveled glass, formed by zinc or brass coming, bordered by Baroque and granite glass. This glass is a great accent to a 3/4-view oval Mahogany Collection panel.

An intricate floral pattern shaped by patina, copper or zinc coming creates the Alegra decorative glass design. The center floral cluster is made of beveled glass accented with a multifaceted jewel.

Zinc or brass coming etch the classic Eastlake pattern of diamonds and rectangles with a glue chip obscure border.
